

Restorative Justice Bringing Justice and Community Together

Wednesday 14 May 2008
Storey Hall, RMIT University
Melbourne, Australia

The Victorian Association for Restorative Justice (VARJ) is a multidisciplinary association of people interested in further understanding and promoting the use of restorative practices in the community. VARJ's statement of purposes is:

- To promote the use of restorative justice in schools, the community, prisons, the criminal justice system, the workplace and any other situation where conflict arises.
- To disseminate information about, and act as a resource for restorative justice.
- To develop and promote agreed standards and principles for evaluating and guiding restorative practice.
- To encourage and to undertake research on restorative justice.
- To provide a forum for the sharing of information, knowledge and experiences about the use of restorative practices.

For further information go to www.varj.asn.au

The Deputy Premier and Attorney-General of Victoria, the Hon. Rob Hulls MLA will open the conference. Key note speakers will include:

Dr Michael King former Magistrate and Senior Research Fellow in the Faculty of Law at Monash University.

Margaret Thorsborne, pioneer in the use of RJ in schools and the Managing Director of Margaret Thorsborne & Associates & Transformative Justice Australia (Qld).

Paul Ban, Family Group Conference expert.

There will be a number of concurrent "streams" in the program including research and practice, legal systems, and schools led by experts in their respective fields. Workshops and presentations on the new Neighbourhood Justice Centre (Collingwood), restorative practice and indigenous communities and schools and therapeutic jurisprudence are just some of the topics that will be included.
